

HOYT SOUNDED SLOGAN OF WAR

Milwaukee Editor Was Chairman Of Democratic State Convention This Afternoon.

DERIDES THE REPUBLICAN PARTY

Says That This Is The Opportunity Of Democracy To Win Out The Fight For Their Principles-- Urges Cooperation.

Milwaukee, Wis., July 22.—The democratic state convention convened here this afternoon. Melvin A. Hoyt of Milwaukee was temporary chairman and said in brief on opening the gathering:

"The republican party, the party of special privilege and paternalism, the party that has created the trusts and monopolies that have throttled and are throttling competition, despite the fact that the trusts have been 'busted' by an executive and spectacular trust-buster, and are still seeking to drive the smaller and independent dealers and traders from business in the land in all lines into ruin and the already over-filled ranks of employees; that 'grand old party' that affects to legislate good crops and high wages now again in the arena offering the voters of the country a professed, ponderous and insistent tariff revision as a nominee for president, and a high protective tariff standard-bearer of the very patrist variety as a nominee for vice-president, with the blighting after effects of a bank panic thrown in as a sweetener to prove that it is a savior pure and simple of certain prosperity, if the voters will only select the combination headed both ways.

"The voters of this country do not perform an operation upon the party of binocularism this time and misrepresentation of the big stick and steam roller, of the new-school and now, you-know-it-style, of presenting issues and candidates to them for their suffrages, by the removal of not only all the gall stones, but also of its head and vital organs then they deserve not only to pay tribute eternally but with every increasing proportion to the interest, which, by their unbusiness methods in sending their representation to Chicago to write the special privilege plank of the republican party platform, made a declaration equal to an assertion that the voters of this country are dashed fool and unfit for the opportunities of self-government with which they have been endowed.

"The committee on resolutions of the republican national convention ought to be indicted before the law for conspiracy against the American people in a continuing effort to maintain present clauses, and so to construct a platform whose demands shall be sought to be embodied into the future public policy and law of the land, making it still lawful that the great body of consumers of this nation shall be held up and robbed, that a few privileged tariff boomers and trust magnates may financially further gorge themselves with immunity from any form of punishment for their acts of extortion.

"It is up to the electors of this nation to vote that indictment next November, and, if they fail to do so, let them ever afterwards hold their peace about high prices of living and scarcity of jobs, and cheerfully accept the self-imposed servitude of the trusts.

"While I do not proclaim there is no need of a tariff in this, as in all nations, I do assert that the protective tariff and mark the difference between the terms tariff and protective tariff—has outworn its welcome as an instrument by which an elation of the material prosperity and general progress of this nation may be secured and maintained.

"If there ever were a reason for the inauguration and continuation of a protective tariff in this country, which is denied, the time is long past when it could, and should have been discontinued for the profit and justice to the citizenry that should underlie every form of government and especially that of self-government.

"Breathing the spirit of justice, of truth, of individualism, of equality before the law, and faith in the honesty and purpose of the people into the democratic party, thus reviving and emancipating it, from lethargy and doubt and rescuing and recalling it to duty, William Jennings Bryan was nominated for the presidency on a platform constituting a veritable bill of human rights.

"It was a challenge to predatory wealth, which had sheltered itself in the security of the republican party's indifference to the cry of the distress, to mortal combat for the preservation of the special privileges.

"Saying that Mr. Bryan could do could prove more amply his harmony with the purposes of fundamental democracy or his fitness to occupy the high office of president of this country than the readiness, cheerfulness and ability with which he has acceded to President Roosevelt's challenge for the inauguration of demands and principles from democratic platforms since he had no place in his own party to go to get them.

"The democratic party should be of good cheer. The sky is full of hopeful signs. The party has weathered many a defeat, and, like the drummer boy in the army of Napoleon, at the battle of Austerlitz, it has never known to beat a retreat.

"We can be no retreat in the cause of interest human rights. That is why the democratic party has never retreated. Like the drummer boy it knows only to beat an advance. Just as sure as the party is true to that purpose, it will vindicate the truth, the inherent rights of individuals and the principle of equal rights to all, with special privileges to none, on which ethics of Christian citizenship as a party, it rests. This will come either by its own elevation to power or by forcing the party in power to apply them. Just as President Roosevelt is doing now, best he and his party persist on the fires of popular indignation.

"At the conclusion of Hoyt's speech various committees were named and an adjournment taken until tomorrow morning.

"The announcement was made by Chairman Hoyt after the close of his speech of the selection of J. J. Cunningham of Janesville, Rock county, as chairman of the committee on resolutions, also of Milwaukee of Waterloo, as chairman of the committee on permanent organization and F. A. Patton of Polk county as chairman of the committee on credentials.

A. J. Schultz of Milwaukee is a candidate for governor on the democratic ticket, to run against J. A. Aylward of Madison. After a committee composed of P. H. O'Meara, Barney Patton, Daniel Grady and Matt Geenan spent a considerable time explaining the situation to Mr. Schultz he finally consented to take up the race against Mr. Aylward.

STANDARD OIL FINE WAS NOT UPHELD WHEN THE FINAL DECISION CAME

Judge Landis' Twenty-Nine Million Fine Not Sustained By The Higher Court This Morning.

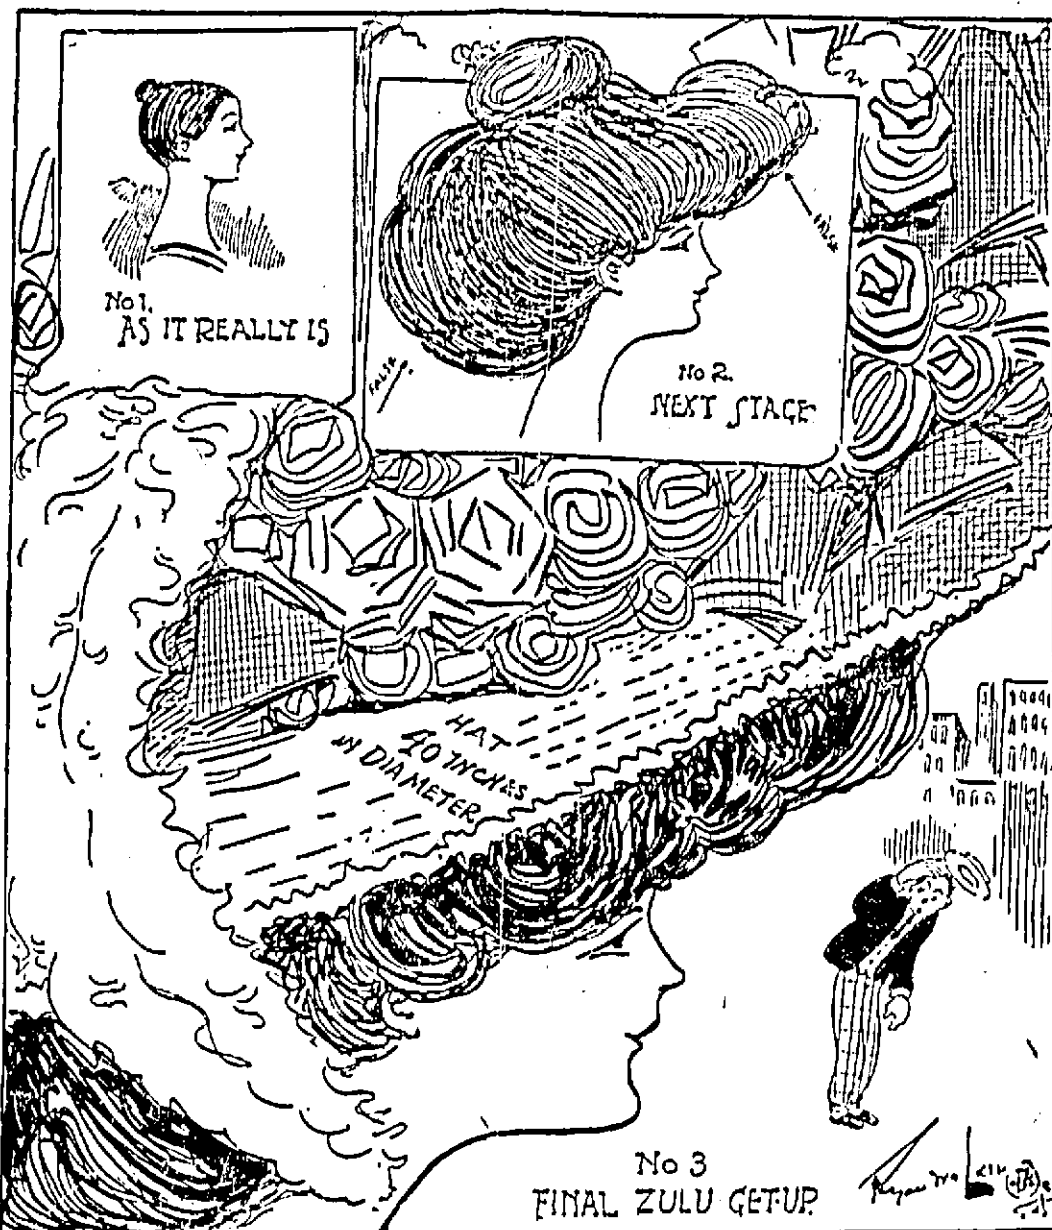

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Chicago, July 22.—The United States court of appeals today reversed the decision of Judge Landis of the United States district court in the case of the Standard Oil company of Indiana upon which Landis inflicted a fine of $29,240,000 upon the oil company, and remanded the case to the lower court for a new trial. The decision of the three appellate judges was unanimous.

The court of appeals differs with the trial court on three vital points, holding that Judge Landis excluded the evidence for the Standard Oil company of Indiana which should have been admitted to show proper intent in the rate the company paid on oil; that he erred in considering each barrel a separate offense; and that in imposing the maximum fine for the first offense he abused the discretion vested in his court.

"It is a strange doctrine," says the opinion, "where under a million-dollar corporation such a defendant, the Standard Oil company of Indiana, may be fined twenty-nine times the amount of its capital stock in order to punish the defendant, not even under indictment." By this latter is meant the parent company, the Standard Oil company of New Jersey.

ROOSEVELT WAS AT A BIG CONFERENCE

Attends the Deliberations of the Naval Men at Providence, Rhode Island.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.] Newport, R. I., July 22.—The yacht Mayflower with President Roosevelt on board, in a dome for early today, ran into and sank the lumber schooner Menawee. All on board the schooner, six men, were taken on board the Mayflower. No one was injured. The president's yacht was slightly damaged. The jar of the collision was so slight none of the president's party knew of the accident until this morning. Roosevelt's party arrived here at ten o'clock this morning to take part in a most important conference of naval officers, affecting the future construction of American battleships and cruisers, in the history of sea fighting. More than a hundred officers of the navy with a large representation from the army participated in the conference. The president delivered an address, after which he participated in the discussion of the merits of various plans with the officers and took up criticisms that have recently been made upon the American naval construction.

Prior to entering the conference room the president made an extemporaneous address in the library of the war college before two hundred naval officers and their wives. It was a stirring appeal for a hard-hitting navy. "I want a first class fighting navy or no navy at all," he said, "because a first class fighting navy is the most effective guarantee of peace this nation can have."

Cooperstown, N. Y., July 22.—Henry Codrington Potter, seventh Protestant Episcopal bishop of the diocese of New York, died here last night after an illness of several weeks. He was unconscious all day, and the end, which came at 8:35 o'clock, was peaceful.

ROYALTY LANDS IN QUEBEC FOR THE BIG CELEBRATION

Prince And Princess Of Wales Reach The Canadian City For The Great Event.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Quebec, July 22.—Quebec's reception today to the Prince of Wales was a magnificent success, unmarred by a single untoward incident. The harbor is dotted all over with warships and the battleship New Hampshire of the United States navy fired one of the first guns of the salute announcing the arrival of the royal party aboard.

The other British warships in port, the Exmouth, Duncan, Albemarle, Russell, Venus and Arrogant, the French warships Leon Gambetta and Admiral Aube and the Citadel chimed in. The Indomitable, followed by the cruiser Minotaur, was made fast to her mooring buoy before the salute from the saluting guns had entirely disappeared. As each vessel came to anchor she ran up her ensign and her own lined her sides. The British vessels in port lined the sides of the harbor as the salutes were fired, and so did the men of the battleship New Hampshire and the French warships. At the same time flags were displayed on the British vessels already in port, and on the Citadel and Governor General's quarters. The Minotaur ran up the royal standard on her mainmast, and it was already flying on the Indomitable.

As the Indomitable passed the other warships flags were dipped and all the way up the harbor salutations were exchanged with the great fleet of pleasure vessels. The crowd that lined Dufferin Terrace to watch the arrival must have numbered 25,000, while many thousands more were crowded upon other places from which a good view of the harbor could be obtained.

Immediately after the arrival of the ships, His Excellency, the Governor General, and Premier Laurier boarded the Indomitable and arranged several details of the reception with his royal Highness as well as the replies to the addresses to be presented. The distinguished Canadian leaders were introduced to the Earl of Dufferin, Governor-General of Australia, to Sir Francis Hopwood, permanent Under-Secretary to the Colonial Office, and to the various members of the staff accompanying the Prince of Wales. Both the warships and the Citadel hoisted forth royal salutes this afternoon when the Prince and his suite landed at the King's Wharf. The royal visitor was met and welcomed by the Canadian Cabinet Ministers and driven to the Parliament House, escorted by four troops of cavalry, advance and rear guards, and mounted police. Several state carriages containing the royal suite preceded that containing his royal Highness, which was drawn by six horses, with scarlet and white liveried outriders. A brilliant royal and military staff rode before the carriages, which were surrounded by a detachment of the Northwestern Mounted Police, especially detailed to act as a bodyguard to his royal Highness during his stay in Quebec.

Thousands of cheering people lined the streets and here and there were groups of school children who sang "God Save the King" as the royal carriage sped past. The Prince looked exceedingly well and, as he graciously bowed his acknowledgments to the salutations of the crowd, frequent comment was heard among the people to the effect that his royal Highness appeared much sturdier and more robust than when he visited Quebec some years ago as Duke of Cornwall and York. The Prince wore his naval uniform and the cross of St. Michael and St. George, the Victorian Order and the Order of St. Patrick.

The Prince of Wales will remain in Quebec one week in attendance on the great Tercentenary celebration now in progress. During this time he will be kept exceedingly busy if the schedule of events arranged in his honor is adhered to. He will attend several naval and military reviews, witness the historical pageants and be present at a number of official functions of varied character. The principal event will be the formal dedication of the Plains of Abraham as a national battlefield park.

Tonight his royal Highness is to be entertained at a state dinner at the (Continued on page 8.)

AMENDED COMPLAINT
HAS BEEN SERVED

In the Case of the State of Wisconsin
on Relation of John Brown vs. Geo. Appleby.
During the absence of William G.
Wheeler, attorney for the defendant,
in the case brought in the circuit court to decide who is the head of the local police department, the amended complaint of the plaintiff was served upon his partner B. F. Dunwiddle on July 11.
The complaint in substance is the same as before with the exception of the additional paragraph stating that one member of the Fire and Police commission had not filed his bond and could not therefore cast a vote. The complaint after quoting the paragraph of the city charter relating to the election of a city marshal, and stating that John Brown was duly elected by the council and has qualified and that Geo. Appleby has assumed his position, states that chapter of the laws of 1907 does not apply to the city of Janesville.
The new matter which was not in the complaint before amendment is to the effect that George Simpson, a member of the fire and police commission, had not at the time of the alleged election of George Appleby as chief of police, filed his bond as required by section 205 ch. 3 of the city charter, and that therefore, admitting that the commission could elect a chief of police, Simpson could not cast a legal vote and only two votes were cast for George Appleby as such chief.
Three are necessary for an election.
The amended answer of the defendant has not been served yet.

MAY OPEN ANOTHER
GRAIN ELEVATOR

Western Elevator Company may Reopen old Northern Grain Co's.
Elevator.
Yesterday at Manitowish the deal
between the Northern Grain company, which practically failed a few weeks ago, and the Western Elevator company by which the latter purchased the property of the former was completed. The consideration while not named in the neighborhood of $25,000, result of this sale may be the re-opening of the old Northern Grain company's elevator, near the St. Paul passenger station. This elevator has been closed for about a year and a half and has been used by E. H. Green for a warehouse.
The secretary of the Western Eleevator company, which makes its headquarters at St. Paul, was in Janesville a few weeks ago looking over the situation with regard to the re-opening of the elevator. The local elevator lost money the last year or so during which it was run. This was because less grain is being raised in this section of the country every year. The daily business is on the increase and the raising of grain is on the decrease.
Whether or not the local elevator will be reopened will not be known definitely for some time.

SINNISSIPPI TEAM
BEAT WESTWARD HO

Local Veterans Defeated Chicago Silver Grays by Score of 14 to 1.
Yesterday morning and afternoon
the team of veterans from the Westward Ho golf club of Chicago went down to defeat before the local veterans by a score of 14 to 1. The match
was played as the result of a general
challenge issued by the local club,
through the Golfers' Magazine, in which they offered to play any team
of fifty-year-old golfers in the country.
Both the Westward Ho club and the Cahoon club of Chicago accepted the challenge.
In an automobile. They were Charles Lamb, Emile Cobb, Richard Slater and D. McIntosh.
Two of the matches were played in the morning in order to allow the players who had afternoon engagements to get away. F. R. Pineda defeated R. H. Sutter three up and John J. Rexford and E. H. Cobb were even up at the end of nineteen holes.
The rest of the matches were played in the afternoon. The Nassau system of scoring was used by which
no player can defeat his opponent by
more than three points.
All of the visitors praised the local
links and said that with the exception of the putting greens which need ed rolling the course was as good as they had ever played on. Their professional, D. McIntosh, who played
several rounds with Chester Morse, also said that with a little work the course could be made the best in the west.
The entire score was as follows:

the team of veterans from the West-

down to defeat before the local veterans by a score of 14 to 1. The match
was played as the result of a general
challenge issued by the local club,
through the Golfers' Magazine, in
which they offered to play any team
of fifty-year-old golfers in the country.
Both the Westward Ho club and the

in the afternoon. The Nassau system of scoring was used by which
no player can defeat his opponent by
more than three points.
All of the visitors praised the local
links and said that with the exception of the putting greens which need
ed rolling the course was as good as
they had ever played on. Their professional, D. McIntosh, who played
several rounds with Chester Morse,

course could be made the best in the
west.

WATER IN RIVER
IS NOW LOW

Said to Be Due to Natural Conditions
—Not to Flashboards of the Dam.
Of late the water in the river has been so low that boats at Indian Ford experienced considerable difficulty in getting across. This is a condition that has not been experienced for several years and was thought to have been caused by the removal of the flashboards at the Janesville Electric company's dam. Mr. Korst says, however, that the flashboards have never been removed nor washed away.
He says that three or four were pushed down by the ice in the river last spring and as the water has been flowing over the dam they have not been able to raise them again. An attempt was made yesterday but there was too much water coming over the dam.
The shallowness of the river, he thinks, is a natural condition such as prevailed four or five years ago. He says that at present the river is not as low as it has been before, the lowest being the year that the dam was removed. Below Indian Ford the water is but eighteen inches deep and the Lorna, owned by George McKay, is not able to come down. No boats can go up either.

LARGE CROWD AT
Y. M. C. A. PICNIC

Shops and Stores Were Closed and
There Were Ball Games Morning and Afternoon.
[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Janesville, July 21.—The Y. M. C.
A. picnic held here today drew a good sized crowd considering the fact that it occurred in the midst of harvest time and many out-of-town people were too busy to get here. The picnic was a part of the day. The shops of the Baker Mfg. Co. and all the stores were closed for the afternoon.
The ball game in the morning between Brooklyn and the team from the Baker shops resulted in a score 6 to 3 in favor of the home team. The Madison Independents played the Evansville team in the afternoon and again the local team were the victors. This was a very interesting game. The Madison team started off in good shape, making two scores in the first inning.
The Evansville team made one score in the second inning and two in the fourth, making the final score 3 to 2.
In the 6:30 race for boys (Paul Jones took 1st prize, Lester Hawkey,

A number of relatives of Mrs. Frederic Jones gave her a most agreeable surprise at her home yesterday. They arrived in the afternoon with well filled baskets and a delicious supper was served on the lawn at six o'clock.
Near the close of a most enjoyable afternoon they presented Mrs. Jones with a beautiful set of silver forks.
While witnessing the ball game at the Y. M. C. A. picnic this afternoon Miss Edith Baker met with a very serious accident by being hit with the ball just above the right eye. She was taken in an automobile to her home on Alameda street and has been in an unconscious condition for several hours.

The parsonage of the M. E. church o'clock, when someone was heard coming up the back stairs. Rev. Nu-zum, armed with a hammer, called to see what was wanted and the proceeding made a hasty exit. The back door which was left open and the kitchen door which was locked on the inside was also found open. If robbery was the object the discovery was made too soon to permit operations.

Nearly everything was packed up,

ready to leave for Madison. Rev.
Nuzum delivers his farewell sermon next Sunday and leaves to locate at

KILL THE DANDRUFF GERM.

Or Your Hair Will Fall Out Till You Become Bald.
Modern science has discovered that dandruff is caused by a germ that digs down to the scalp in scales, as it burrows down to the roots of the hair, where it destroys the hair's vitality, causing falling hair, and ultimately, baldness.
After Prof. Unna, of Hamburg, Germany, discovered the dandruff germ, all efforts to find a remedy failed
until the great laboratory discovery was made which resulted in Newbro's Harpicidin. It alone of all other hair preparations kills the dandruff germ.
Without dandruff, hair grows luxuriantly. "Destroy the cause, you remove the effect." Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c in stamps for sample to The Harpicidin Co., Detroit, Mich.
Two sizes, 50 cents and $1.00.

An Interesting Experiment

It will enable you to determine the value of P. & G. Naphtha Soap. Try it!

Make a strong suds of P. & G. Naphtha Soap and cold or lukewarm water.

Put into this all the dirty dish-cloths you have. Let them soak for an hour. If any dirt spots remain, rub them lightly with the soap. Remove the cloths. Rinse them in clear water. Hang them up to dry.

Look at them an hour later. They are as clean as when new—free from grease and without odor of any kind.

The point of this little experiment is this: If P. & G. Naphtha Soap will clean dirty dish-cloths quickly, easily and thoroughly, how much more quickly and easily will it clean bed-linen, table-cloths, pillow-cases, skirts, shirt waists and articles of a similar nature which are not, and never were, one-tenth as dirty as the dish-cloths!

5 cents a cake; worth more.

A NEW DESK CHAIR

Writing Board Folds Across Back.

When It Is Not In Use.

A South Dakota man has devised a desk chair, which is handy for use in the home or in small schools. It consists of an ordinary straight-back chair, with an adjustable flat surface supported on an adjustable brace. The flat surface, or writing table, is fastened to the top of the chair and can be widened or contracted as desired. The heavy support, sets on the back of the seat, and can be lengthened or shortened. When not in use the writing table can be folded in close to the back of the chair, and when needed can be fixed at any angle required. The writer, of course, needs another chair to sit upon, but the advantage of the desk-chair is its economy of space. The device will be found useful in small schools, as it can be made to sell for a low price. Such chairs would also be found convenient in homes where there are several children who have lessons to do at night.

SIMPLE EGG-TESTER

Quality of Egg Determined by Shadow Cast on Mirror.

The average person evidently imagines that it is impossible for the dealer to distinguish between bad eggs and good eggs.

UNUSUAL EGG CAST SHADOW.

This supposition is natural inasmuch as so many eggs of questionable purity reach the dinner table. If the dealer desired he could readily detect eggs of doubtful age, as there are numerous devices for testing them. One of the most recent is shown in the accompanying illustration, patented by a Minnesota farmer. It consists of a wooden frame or casing across the top of which is a leather support for the eggs, the latter resting in flexible apertures. In the bottom of the casing is an inclined mirror. Mounted on the upper part of the frame is a light-reflecting hood in which is placed a lamp or other suitable illuminant. In operation eggs are placed over the aperture, and the light falling on the eggs will cast a shadow upon the mirror if they are unsound. The soundness of the egg is indicated by the clearness of the light that falls through them upon the mirror.

MURDER IN SALOON HOLD-UP.

Three Desperados Do Wild West Act in Boston Suburb.

Boston, July 22.—Three men armed with heavy caliber revolvers dashed into a crowded Jamaica Plain barroom ten minutes before closing time Tuesday night and, yelling "Hands up!" began shooting up the place.

When they had grabbed the money till and emptied it and had finished shooting and made their escape one man was dead on the floor, another lay dying and a third was seriously injured.

Dashing out of the door, the three men were met by Officer S. C. Datter, who drew his revolver and began firing on the desperados. One was hit, but all escaped.

The dead man is Frank J. Drake, aged 52 years. Patrick R. Doan, aged 40 years, is lying at the City hospital with a bullet wound in the abdomen, and Thomas Winterston, one of the proprietors of the saloon, is suffering from bullet wounds in the back of the head and arm.

Northwest Needs Farm Hands. Minneapolis, Minn., July 22.—With approximately 30,000 men needed, the harvest only a few weeks distant and the railroads offering no special inducement in the way of cheap transportation, the farmers of Minnesota and North Dakota face what may develop into a most serious dilemma—a beautiful harvest and insufficient help to garner it.

Bandits Rob a Nevada Stage. Likely, Nov., July 22.—The Likely and Allura stage was held up Monday night by two masked men, who were heavily armed. They compelled the Wells-Fargo messenger to throw down the box containing it. It is believed, a large sum in gold for the payroll at Allura. The passengers were not molested.

World Is Improving. The world was never so truth-telling as it is today. Nothing like it ever existed in the past. The commercial life of the world compels truth as nothing has, nothing else can, for it is on its credit and truthfulness that the fabric of our great commerce rests. You may rest assured that there never was so much truth in the world as there is today, and there never was such a real care for truth as there is today.—Rev. M. J. Savage.

Trouble. "Some folks," says Brother Dickey, "have so much trouble in this world that the place where Satan lives at will look familiar to 'em!"

THE HOTTEST NIGHT

With an electric fan you can sleep comfortably the hottest night in the summer. Turn on the fan in your bed room before retiring. Do not turn it directly towards the bed as you would then sleep in a direct draft. Set it near the window and turn it towards the door. This will give you a free, cool circulation of air all night and make your bed room comfortable in the hottest weather.

Mens will taste more palatable in hot-weather if your dining room is cool, and an electric fan will cool it.

Let our representative call and tell you more.

Teach Children Love of Nature.

A love of nature should be implanted in the mind of the youngest child. A beautiful sunset gives pleasure to the tiniest tot whose attention is directed to it. To love flowers, trees, books, and all the wonders of nature is one of the main things for a child to learn at an early age. Science and analysis should have no part in his education at this time.

No Half-Clothed Hops.

If we were a sculptor we wouldn't use a woman half clothed, with yearning eyes fixed upwards, as a figure of "Hope"; a better illustration would be a man with overalls on, who has planted garden seeds, and is looking to see if the neighbors' chickens intend to let them come up.—Atchison (Kan.) #### EXIT AUGUST ELSE VIA FIRE ESCAPE

Penmaker Took Departure via Third Story Window of Parker Building to Avoid Compulsory Marriage.

Against August Elser, a man about 26 years of age who has been employed at the Parker Pen Co.'s factory, a young woman residing in the Fourth ward entered a complaint this morning. She seemed quite confident that Elser would step forward and renounce the marriage ceremony to be pronounced if his attention was called to the matter in a quiet way. In order that he should not be unnecessarily embarrassed, she asked that someone other than an officer in uniform be sent to summon him. Sheriff Elser was out of the city and District Attorney J. L. Fisher, himself, finally visited the factory and called Elser out in to the hall for a conference. The latter readily agreed to the proposition of marriage and bade the District Attorney wait a moment while he went to get his coat. When some little time had elapsed and Elser failed to reappear, Mr. Fisher became impatient and again entered the factory. When some of his associates tried to shut the door, the prosecuting attorney was not long in ascertaining that Elser had climbed out a third story window and down a fire escape to the roof below, and had made his escape. Officer Fanning and Chief Appleby took up the trail, but were unable to locate the man up to noon today. It is thought probable that he caught a train for Beloit and is over the state line by this time.

SUSPICIOUS LAND SCHEME IN BELOIT

Company Is Trying to Sell Lots in a Town Which Has Just Been Laid Out.

[Special to the Gazette.]

Beloit, Wis., July 22.—For the last day or so a car of produce sent out by the Union Central Railway company of Texas has been at Beloit to advertise the town of Ironside, Texas, and sell lots in the town. Yesterday an anonymous letter was received in Beloit, saying that the whole thing was a fraud and enclosing a number of newspaper clippings which read to the same effect. A wire was sent Tuesday morning to the mayor of Palestine, Texas, asking him concerning the company and an answer received the same day. The mayor said in his telegram that there was no such town in existence, but that it had been laid out and was being promoted. The telegram, while rather noncommittal, made the scheme seem rather fishy.

It became known today that the office of the City Fast company was entered several days ago by robbers. The safe was open and empty at the time, so that nothing was taken. Entrance was gained by breaking a large glass window.

OBITUARY.

Miss Etta Carle

Miss Etta S. Carle died in Madison on July 24, and was buried at East Troy, her old home. Many Janesville students and teachers will remember Miss Carle, who taught in the high school, this city, in what is now the Jefferson school, in the seventies.

She was a constant student, specializing in German, and doing much work as a translator. She went to Europe in 1875, first with a party, afterward traveling alone with a lady from Janesville of congenial tastes. Her work as teacher ended about 1885, necessitated by increasing care of a home, with aging parents and by her failing health. Her death was caused by nervous prostration, brought on by the untiring care of her mother. She will be remembered with love and kindness by many flower city friends.

Mrs. Louisa C. Wood.

Mrs. Louisa C. Wood of 117 North Academy street passed away this noon at her home. She was found dead lying on a couch about one o'clock, having passed peacefully away while resting. Mrs. Wood, who was the widow of Warren B. Wood who died about five years ago, was an old resident of Janesville having lived here for many years. She leaves several children.

Funeral notice will be given later.

George J. Ollis.

Word was received this morning of the death of George J. Ollis of Oak Park Chicago, last evening after a short illness with pneumonia. Mr. Ollis was an elder brother of H. E. Ollis and has visited Janesville many times having many friends here who will be grieved to learn of his demise. Mr. and Mrs. H. E. ## CHAPTER VIII.

BOBBOY HIGBY and Graydon Hamsamer were busily engaged in Chicago; they had been classmates at Yale. It had been a question of money with Bobbo from the beginning. According to his own admission, his money was a source of great annoyance to him. He was not out of debt but once and then before he fully realized it. So unusual was the condition that he could not sleep. The first thing he did in the morning was to borrow right and left for fear another attack of insomnia might interfere with his training for the football eleven.

Robertson Ray Higby, immortalized as Bobbo, had gone in for athletics, where he learned to think and act quickly. He was called one of the lightest but heaviest quarterbacks in the east. No griddle had ever escaped him as "Johnny" or "Poppy" or "Pop" or "Johnny." When finally he hung out his shingle in Chicago—"Robertson R. Higby, Attorney at Law"—he lost his identity even among his classmates. It was weeks before the fact became generally known that it was Bobbo who waited for clients behind the deceptive shingle.

The indulgent aunt who had supplied him with funds in college was rich in business blocks and apartment buildings, and now Mr. Robertson R. Higby was her son of affairs. When he went in for business, the old push of the football field did not desert him. He was very much alive and very vigorous, and it did not take him long to "learn the signals."

With his aunt's unflinching prosperity, his own ready wit and unbridled versatility he was not long in establishing himself safely in his profession and in society. Everybody liked him, though no one took him seriously except when they came to transact business with him. Then the wit of the drawing room turned into shrewdness as he crossed the office threshold.

The day after the Cable dinner Bobbo yawned and stretched through his morning mail. He had slept but little the night before, and all on account of a certain, or rather uncertain, Miss Keating. That petite and aggravating young woman had been especially exasperating at the Cable dinner. Mr. Higby, superbly confident of his standing with her, encountered difficulties which put him very much out of temper. For the first time there was an apparent rift in her composure. Never before had she shown such signs of fluctuating. He could not understand it—in fact, he dared not understand it.

"She was a most annoying young person," said Mr. Higby to himself wrathfully more than once after he went to bed that night. Anyhow, he could not see what there was about Howard Medford for any girl to countenance, much less to admire. Mr. Medford certainly had ruined the Cable dinner party for Mr. Higby, and he was full of resentment.

"Miss Keating," called Mr. Higby for the third time, "may I interrupt your conversation with Mr. Deever long enough to ask a question that has been on my mind for twenty minutes?"

Mr. Deever was the raw young gentleman who read law in the office of Judge Smith next door. Bobbo maintained that if he read law at all it was at night, for he was too busy with other occupations during the day.

Miss Keating, startled, turned round about promptly. "Yes, sir," at last came from the pert young woman near the window.

"I guess I'll be going," said Mr. Deever respectfully, rising slowly from the side of her desk on which he had been lounging.

"Wait a minute, Eddie," protested Miss Keating. "What's your hurry?" And then she almost snapped out, "What is it, Mr. Higby?"

"I merely wanted to ask if you have sufficient time to let me dictate a few short letters that ought to go out today," said Bobbo earnestly. And then added with mock apology: "Don't move, Mr. Deever, if you're not in Miss Keating's way, you're certainly not in mine."

"A great josh!" that young woman was heard to comment admiringly. "You may wake up some morning to find that I'm not," said Bobbo soberly. Whereupon Miss Keating rose and strode to the other end of the room and took her place beside Bobbo's desk.

Bobbo dictated half a dozen incoherent letters before coming to the one which troubled him most. For many minutes he stared reflectively at the typewritten message from New York. Miss Keating frowned severely and tapped her little foot impatiently on the floor. But Bobbo would not be hurried. His reflections were too serious. This letter from New York had come with a force sufficient to drive out even the indignant thoughts concerning one Miss Keating. For the life of him Bobbo Higby could not immediately frame a reply to the startling message. Eddie Deever stirred restlessly on the window ledge.

"Don't hurry, Eddie!" called Miss Keating distinctly and insistently. "Oh, I guess I'll be going!" he called back, beginning to roll a cigarette. "I have some reading to do today," Mr. Deever was tall, awkward and homely and a lot of other things that would have discouraged a less self-untilled "lady's man." Judge Smith said he was hopeless, but that he might do better after he was twenty-one.

"What are you reading now, Eddie?" asked Miss Keating, complacently eyeing Mr. Higby. "Hilltop?"

"Law, you idiot!" said Eddie scornfully, going out of the door.

"Oh! Well, the law is never in a hurry, don't you know? It's like justice—the slowest thing in town!" she called after him as his footsteps died away.

"Ready?" said Bobbo, resolutely. "Take this, please." And slowly and carefully he proceeded to dictate:

Mr. Deever, I cannot tell you how much your letter surprised me. What you say seems preposterous. There must be a mistake. It cannot be this man. I know him quite well, and he seems as straight as a string and a gentleman too. His son, as you know as well as I, there isn't a better fellow in the world. Mr. Deever is a fairly good business man. His transactions open and aboveboard, I'm sure I have never heard a word said against him or his methods. You are mistaken; that's all there is about it.

You might investigate a little further and, assuring yourself, do all in your power to check such stories as you relate. Of course I'll do as you suggest, but I'm positive I can find nothing discreditable in his dealings here.

Keep me posted on everything. As ever, yours,

Miss Keating's anxiety was aroused. After a very long silence she took the note into her own hands. "Is Mr. Briggs in trouble?" she asked at a venture. Mr. Briggs was the only client she could think of whose name began with a B.

"Briggs? What Briggs?" asked Bobbo, relighting his pipe for the fourth time.

"Why, our Mr. Briggs," answered Miss Keating curtly.

"I'm sure I don't know, Miss Keating. He has been around lately?"

"I thought you were referring to him in that letter," she said uneasily.

"Oh, dear me, no; another party altogether," she said. "But the typewriter in working order this morning?" he asked, eyeing her machine uneasily. She smiled and started to reply, but thought better of it. Then she began pounding the keys briskly.

"It works like a charm," she shut back quickly.

The letter that caused Bobbo such perturbation came in the morning mail. His friend had told him some of the old stories concerning James Hamsamer and cautioned him not to become involved in transactions with the former New Yorker. Harbert's statements were positive in character, and he seemed to know his case thoroughly well. While the charges as they came to Higby were general, Harbert had said that he was quite ready to be specific.

All day long the letter hung like a cloud over young Mr. Higby. He was to have lunch with Graydon and was much relieved when young Hamsamer telephoned that he could not join him. Higby found himself in a very uncomfortable position. If the stories from New York were true, even though he knew none of the details, Graydon's father was pretty much of a scoundrel, to say the least. He was not well acquainted with the lawyer, but he now recalled that he never had liked the man. Hamsamer had impressed him from the beginning as heartless, designing, utterly unlike his clean hearted son.

Bobbo loved Graydon Hamsamer in the way that one man loves a true friend. He was certain that the son knew nothing of those shady transactions—if they really existed as Harbert painted them—but an exposure of the father would be a blow from which he could not recover.

It came at last to Higby that he was not the only one in Chicago who held the secret. Other members of the bar had been warned long before the news came to him, and it was morally certain that if the facts were as bad as intimated the police also were in possession of them.

At the same time Higby felt a certain moral responsibility involving himself. Hamsamer at any time might apply his methods to people who were near and dear to him. The new intimacy with the Cable came to Bobbo's mind. And then there were Clegg, Groll, the Semmes and others who might easily fall into the snare if James Hamsamer set it for them.

Apprehending his responsibility in the matter, now that he was prepared to hear the worst of James Hamsamer, Higby's heart stood almost still. It meant that some day he might have to expose Graydon Hamsamer's father. It meant that he might "have" to "ruin" his friend.

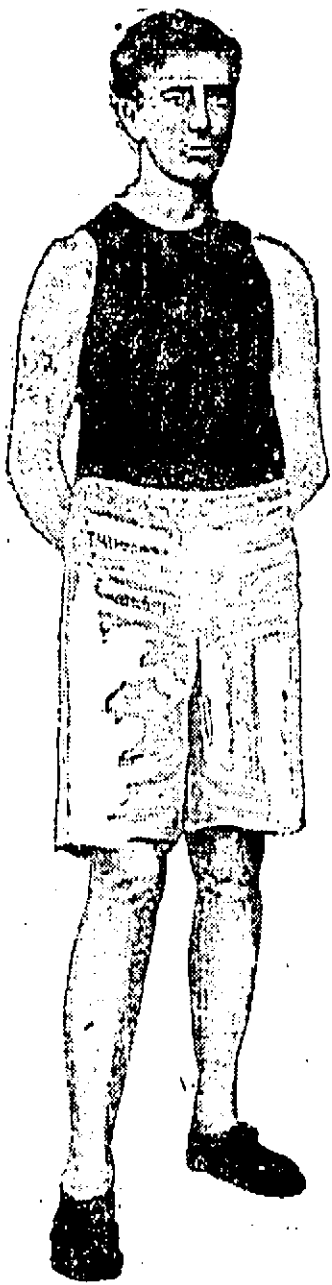

He might lose a friendship that had been one of his best treasures since the good old college days. The mere fact that he would be compelled to watch and mistrust James Hamsamer seemed like darkest treachery to Graydon, even though the son should not become aware of the situation.

Later in the afternoon Bobbo went guiltily into a telephone office and sent away a carefully worded dispatch. The answer came to him at the club that evening while he was playing billiards with young Hamsamer, who even then was eager to be off to keep the promised appointment with pretty Miss Cable.

The telegram, which he opened while Graydon impatiently chatted his cue and waited for him to play, was brief and concluding. It read:

Watch him, by all means. He is not safe. My word for it. There is no mistake.

JACK ATLEE.

Jack Atlee is expected to win his laurels in the quarter-mile run at London during the Olympic games. Atlee is a very popular man on the team, for besides his prowess as a runner he is a remarkably clean-cut, sociable chap. He is a graduate of Princeton university, class of 1907, where he did remarkable work for his Alma Mater. Atlee, although a young man, has been at the "racing game" for some time, beginning at a "prep" school at Lawrenceville, where he ran against Parsons, Yale's famous half miler. Atlee is a close friend of the wonder sprinter, Foster, of the University of Virginia, for while Atlee was leading to run the half mile Foster was clearing up all the eastern preparatory schools in the hundred-yard dash.

Jack Atlee is a long runner and has a phenomenally long stride. This, combined with his physical development, makes him an ideal runner.

Government Land Opening, Tripp County, S. D.

The government opening of Tripp County, S. D. lands will probably occur about October 1st, when a million acres will be thrown open to settlement, including some of the finest agricultural lands in the west. The Rosebud reservation, in the Chicago & North-Western Ry. is the only railway line to these lands. See that your tickets read to Dallas, the terminus of the North-Western, a half-mile from the reservation border. United States Land office will probably be located here. Send for free descriptive pamphlets giving all details about the land and how to secure a quarter section of it: free on application to any C. & N. W. ticket agent.

There's nothing so good for a sore throat as Dr. Thomas' Eucalyptic Oil. Cures it in a few hours. Relieves any pain in any part.

Children's Sleep

As a general rule the kid at school requires nine to ten hours sleep. Growing boys need a large amount of sleep, and when this is denied them, neither their bodies nor their minds can develop properly. An English authority points out this lack of hours of rest falls most heavily on the clever boys.

Appreciating his responsibility in the matter, now that he was prepared to hear the worst of James Hamsamer, Higby's heart stood almost still. It meant that some day he might have to expose Graydon Hamsamer's father. It meant that he might "have" to "ruin" his friend.

He might lose a friendship that had been one of his best treasures since the good old college days. The mere fact that he would be compelled to watch and mistrust James Hamsamer seemed like darkest treachery to Graydon, even though the son should not become aware of the situation.

PLANS FOR TAFT NOTIFICATION

CINCINNATI COMMITTEE SAYS CROWD WILL BE IMMENSE.

WESTERN CONFAB CLOSES

Message Sent Republican Nominees from Pike's Peak—President Roosevelt to Review Judge Taft's Speech.

Cincinnati, July 22.—The committee in charge of the arrangements for the celebration of Taft notification day is rapidly gathering together the various threads of the organization and perfecting plans.

That there will be large delegations here from Indiana, Kentucky, Illinois, West Virginia and neighboring states is now assured. Word is being received from various points hourly to the effect that many are coming, and the committeemen feel that the crowd here will be a record-breaker.

Marcus R. Sulzer of Madison, Ind., conferred with the committee Tuesday, and has decided to open southern Indiana headquarters in Cincinnati in order to have a meeting place for the people from that section who will come here on notification day by boat and rail.

Program for the Evening.

The demonstration committee met and perfected the arrangements for the fireworks, the salutes and the river trip. Judge Taft and his party will come through Eden Park at seven o'clock Tuesday evening and their automobile will be the only vehicle admitted to the park after six o'clock. This has been made absolutely necessary in order to avoid the congestion sure to result if there were no restrictions. The president's suite is 25 guns and the committee has arranged to give Judge Taft a salute of 24 guns.

The nominee and his party, on the Island Queen, accompanied by a flotilla of 100 gaily decorated boats, will give the signal for the fireworks to start in the park.

The movement on the part of business houses to close their places during the exercises took definite form Tuesday when Chairman Reynolds issued a proclamation calling on the people to make Tuesday a holiday.

Western Conference Closes.

Colorado Springs, Col., July 22.—The intermountain Republican conference came to a close Tuesday night with a dinner given by Frank H. Hitchcock, chairman of the Republican national committee, to the members of the national committee and state chairmen who have been here for the last three days. Most of the westerners here left for their homes.

The time Tuesday was fully occupied by the Republican politicians, during the forenoon they attended Pike's Peak on a special train. On the trips up and down Mr. Hitchcock conferred with every politician individually. At the summit photographs of the party were taken and telegrams were sent to Judge Taft and Representative Sherman.

A severe storm with hail and rain, thunder and lightning, added to the grandeur of the journey down the mountain. Just before final adjournment, the members of the national committee in conference with Mr. Hitchcock voted unanimously to establish main headquarters in Chicago instead of New York. Quarters will be taken in a downtown office building. All the work of the Taft forces will be directed from Chicago, even to the collection of campaign funds.

Will Show His Speech to Roosevelt.

Hot Springs, Va., July 22.—President Roosevelt is to review in advance the speech Judge Taft will deliver in Cincinnati next Tuesday.

"I have decided to make this speech what may be my most important utterance of the campaign. I have the highest regard for the president's judgment regarding the subjects to be dealt with, and a keen appreciation of his wonderful ability for forceful expression. I want his judgment and his criticism, and this cannot be satisfactorily obtained at long range, so I have decided to go to Oyster Bay."

This statement, made Tuesday by Mr. Taft, indicates his viewpoint regarding the announcement of his intended trip, which he says is to be taken on his own and not on the president's initiative. He will leave here with Mr. Carpenter, his secretary, Wednesday night. On reaching Jersey City Thursday afternoon he will enter an automobile which will take him through New York city and to Sagamore Hill without delay.

Mrs. J. B. Stetson to Wed a Count.

Philadelphia, July 22.—It was learned here Tuesday night that Mrs. John B. Stetson, widow of the late millionaire hat manufacturer of this city, is engaged to be married to Count Santa Eulalia, Portuguese consul at Chicago. Mrs. Stetson admitted the truth of the report.

Boston Woman Is Murdered.

Boston, July 22.—A brutal murder was disclosed Tuesday night by the discovery of the body of Mrs. Emma Payrow, 38 years old, gagged and with her throat cut, crushed into a small closet in one of the apartments at 200 Columbus avenue in the back bay.

His Chief Aid.

If ignorance were eliminated the devil could still rely on prejudice to help him in his business.

FLEET READY TO SAIL.

Battleships About to Depart from Honolulu for New Zealand.

Honolulu, July 22.—The Atlantic battleship fleet has finished coaling and final preparations are made to resume its journey around the world Wednesday afternoon when sail will be set for New Zealand and Australia. The flagship Connecticut will leave her wharf at 2:30 p. m. and the fleet will sail at six p. m.

Five thousand men from the fleet were granted shore leave Tuesday. There was an excursion to Pearl Harbor for the officers and at night a grand ball was held. The day's festivities closed with fireworks and an illumination.

DISTILLERS WIN CASE.

Enforcement of New Branding Rule Enjoined at Cincinnati.

Cincinnati, July 22.—The internal revenue officers in this city were enjoined from continuing in effect the new rule for marking and branding the products of the distilleries by United States Judge Thompson Tuesday night.

The demand of the government was overruled and an injunction issued on the application of the Clifton Springs and the Union Distilling companies, both of this city.

Idle Prisoners Beg for Work.

Lincoln, Neb., July 22.—Prisoners in Nebraska penitentiary, idle for more than a month, are begging and pleading for something to do. "The state board of public lands and buildings held a meeting Tuesday, but failed to provide tasks for the men. Recently the contract for the prison labor explored and the contractors refused to pay the increase of 25 cents a day per convict demanded by the state."

Chafin Opens "Dry" Campaign.

Chicago, July 22.—The prohibition national campaign was formally opened Tuesday night by addresses delivered by prominent leaders of that party at a mass meeting held in Evans-ton, Ill. The principal speech was made by Eugene W. Chafin, the presidential nominee.

Courage a Moral Trait.

When the crucial moment arrives the steel of courage is as likely to be found in the quivering nerves of frail women as in the stouter muscles of men. Courage is a moral trait that enables the soul to possess itself under every vicissitude. In the common spheres of civil and prosaic life may be found instances of true heroism.
